Roadmap to Whole Person Health

The Roadmap to Whole Person Health is a report released by DHS to provide insight to their vision of Whole Person Health. To achieve this vision of Whole Person Health, DHS is pursuing three interwoven components: Value, Equity, and the Social Determinants of Health (SDOH). Fortunately, progress towards any one of these goals invariably advances the other two—creating a positive feedback loop towards a more whole-person future.

The RAHC program is emphasized as an intervention focused on two of the three components, Health Equity and SDOH. The RAHC forums will continue to progress toward the coordination of activities that promote health equity and address regional SDOH needs.

The Roadmap to Whole Person Health created by DHS can be found here.
