

The Platform

Commemorative Issue

Change? We Got it Managed.

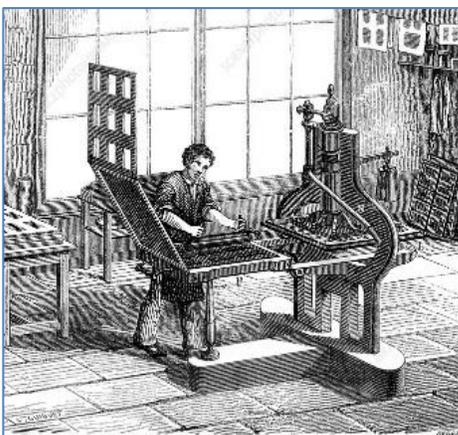

The COVID-19 pandemic has upended life and work as we know it. Amidst the challenges, the work of the commonwealth goes on. From kitchen counters, home offices, and coffee tables we continue to make progress on the initiatives that cannot wait. Using remote tools and long fingernails we forge ahead with meetings, deliverables, and milestones.

The work is paying off. The MMIS 2020 Platform is taking shape.

Infrastructure that will form the backbone of the platform is being acquired and configured. Processes for collaboration are being tested and refined. Pants languish in the closet.

In the coming months The Platform newsletter will also be adapting and evolving with the times. The humble format you know and love is retiring. Soon you will get the latest news and developments on the MMIS 2020 page of the DHS website.

Longtime readers should not despair. Regardless of the medium, the core mission of The Platform will never change. Throughout our long and storied history, we have strived to provide high-quality MMIS 2020 journalism and unparalleled analysis.

Setting the type for an early issue of The Platform.

The future is now!

The internet will allow us to do much more. Expect to see new content as well as classic articles. Look forward to more frequent updates and even new modes of delivery.
