National Provider Identifier (NPI) Requirements for Electronic Claims

Effective May 23, 2008, CMS required providers to submit electronic claims using NPI numbers. This requirement applies to electronic transactions (i.e. 837/ NCPDP) but is currently not applicable to paper or internet claims submitted to the Department of Human Services (the department.)

Note: Atypical providers are exempt from the NPI number requirement at this time, and must continue to bill with their 13-digit legacy numbers.

Please be sure to include an NPI number for all providers on an electronic claim. In addition to the billing provider, this applies to the rendering, referring, attending, facility, and second other provider, as well as the prescriber.

If legacy numbers are listed in the ancillary provider fields (i.e. facility, attending, second other provider), the claim will deny. A list of facility NPI numbers is available at the PROMISE™ website at:

<http://promise.dpw.state.pa.us>.

The chart below details the errors you will see when incorrect information has been entered. If you see any of these codes, your claim has been denied. Please note some fields may not be required for all provider types, but if utilized, they will be audited for NPI numbers.
